

Charlotte District E-Pistle

April 15, 2005-04-15

The death of Terri Schiavo has brought about an extraordinary amount of interest in family preparedness through the writing of living wills and durable power-of-attorney arrangements for health care circumstances. Much miss-information is now circulated on the internet or advertised by those who may exploit a vulnerable public.

In response to a need to bring enlightenment to this subject, Pfeiffer University is sponsoring an educational seminar on this subject on April 20, 10 A.M.-Noon, at their Charlotte Campus: 4701 Park Road. Our local United Methodist university is joining with the Poyner & Spruill law firm in providing this valuable service to our community. I encourage you to print the attached bulletin and invite members of your church. Seating is limited; but, to reserve a seat contact David Jones at 705-945-7318 or djones@pfeiffer.edu

Pfeiffer University is eager to serve the United Methodist Church through its commitment to educate servant leaders for life-long learning.

Grace and peace,

George
